

Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement

United Way of the Brazos Valley

The Code of Ethics for United Way of the Brazos Valley outlines the agency's Conflict of Interest policy and should be closely reviewed by all Board and Committee members, other volunteers and staff. All known or potential conflicts should be disclosed below. As described in the Code, these include any United Way of the Brazos Valley agencies, grantees, vendors or competing organizations with which you or an immediate family member might have a significant interest as a Board or committee volunteer, stakeholder, financial beneficiary, or any organization or subject about which you have strong personal feelings that could affect your judgment on the best course of action for United Way of the Brazos Valley as an organization.

It is understood and expected that active volunteers will have involvements with multiple organizations; these relationships simply need to be disclosed as soon as the potential conflict is identified. Any Conflict of Interest shall be acknowledged during any discussion of issues that might be related to a competing organization. Volunteers asked to abstain from discussion unless input is requested. Board and committee members shall abstain from voting in any matter that might have a conflict of interest.

Please list below any known potential Conflict of Interest that you or an immediate family might have such as serving as a paid employee or board member of any agency; a vendor of goods and services to United Way of the Brazos Valley exceeding $1,000 per year; receiving financial benefits from an agency or other assistance beyond that received by members of the general public; or immediate future expectancy of employment or vending of goods or services.

I have read and agree to abide by the above Conflict of Interest policy of United Way of the Brazos Valley. All conflicts or potential conflicts have been disclosed above.
